Before you invest in any fund, you should consider how it would work with your other investments and your tolerance for risk.

This mutual fund is an alternative mutual fund. It has the ability to invest in asset classes or use investment strategies that are not permitted for conventional mutual funds. The specific strategies that differentiate this Fund from conventional mutual funds include: increased use of derivatives for hedging and non-hedging purposes; increased ability to sell securities short; and the ability to borrow cash to use for investment purposes. While these strategies will be used in accordance with the Fund's investment objectives and strategies, during certain market conditions they may accelerate the pace at which your investment decreases in value.

How risky is it?

The value of the Fund can go down as well as up. You could lose money.

One way to gauge risk is to look at how much a fund's returns change over time. This is called "volatility".

In general, funds with higher volatility will have returns that change more over time. They typically have a greater chance of losing money and may have a greater chance of higher returns. Funds with lower volatility tend to have returns that change less over time. They typically have lower returns and may have a lower chance of losing money.

Risk rating
NEI Investments has rated the volatility of this Fund as low to medium.

This rating is based on how much the Fund's returns have changed from year to year. It doesn't tell you how volatile the Fund will be in the future. The rating can change over time. A fund with a low risk rating can still lose money.

Low	Low to Medium	Medium	Medium to High	High

For more information about the risk rating and specific risks that can affect the Fund's returns, see the "What are the risks of investing in a mutual fund?" section of the Fund's simplified prospectus.

No guarantees
Like most mutual funds, this Fund doesn't have any guarantees. You may not get back the amount of money you invest.

A word about tax

In general, you'll have to pay income tax on any money you make on a fund. How much you pay depends on the tax laws where you live and whether or not you hold the Fund in a registered plan, such as a Registered Retirement Savings Plan or a Tax-Free Savings Account.

Keep in mind that if you hold your fund in a non-registered account, fund distributions are included in your taxable income, whether you get them in cash or have them reinvested.

How much does it cost?

The following tables show the fees and expenses you could pay to buy, own and sell Series I units of the Fund. The fees and expenses - including any commissions - can vary among series of a fund and among funds. Higher commissions can influence representatives to recommend one investment over another. You should ask about other funds and investments that may be suitable for you at a lower cost.

1. Sales charges

No direct sales commissions or redemption charges are payable by you to us on the purchase or sale of Series I units.

2. Fund expenses

You don't pay these expenses directly. They affect you because they reduce the Series' returns. As of September 30, 2025, the Series' Fund expenses were 5.81% of its value. This equals $58.10 for every $1,000 invested.

	Annual rate (as a % of the Fund's value)
Management expense ratio (MER) This Series of the Fund does not pay management fees or operating expenses. These fees and expenses are negotiated and paid directly by each Series I investor.	3.42%
Trading expense ratio (TER) These are the Fund's trading costs.	2.39%
Fund expenses	5.81%

The Manager charges the Fund, payable to the Portfolio Sub-Advisor a daily performance fee equal to 20% of, the positive difference between the series' unit price on each valuation day and high-water mark less the hurdle amount per series' unit on the valuation day, multiplied by the number of series' units outstanding on the applicable valuation day on which the performance fee is determined. This calculation ensures that the performance fee reflects the Fund's cumulative total return since the last performance fee period. The performance fee shall be calculated, earned, and accrued daily, based on the cumulative total return of the Fund since the last period for which the performance fee was paid, and become a liability of the Fund on each valuation day and shall be paid by the Fund at the end of each calendar quarter. The high-water mark is the greatest series' unit price on any previous valuation day since the units of the series were first issued. The hurdle amount per unit for each applicable series on a valuation day is the product of (a) 2% for each calendar year (pro-rated for the number of days in the calendar year); (b) the unit price of each applicable series on the valuation day; and (c) the number of days since the most recently determined high-water mark or the beginning of the current calendar year, whichever is most recent. Once a high-water mark is attained, a performance fee is earned by the sub-advisor and will not be reduced if there is subsequent negative performance by the Fund.
