Management Discussion of Performance

Results of Operations

The NEI Canadian Dividend Fund's Series A units returned 10.2% for the six months ended March 31, 2022 compared with a return of 8.6% for the benchmark explained below.

Unlike the benchmark return, the Fund's returns are after the deduction of fees and expenses paid by the Fund. Performance differences between series of units are mainly attributable to management fees charged to each series. Refer to the Past Performance section for the details of returns by series.

The blended benchmark is composed of 80% S&P/TSX Composite TR Index and 20% MSCI World NR Index (C$).

The Fund's net asset value increased by 4.04% during the period, from $155,417,490 as at September 30, 2021 to $161,690,018 as at March 31, 2022. This change in net assets is attributed to net unitholder activity of -$9,842,663 and $16,115,191 to investment operations, including market appreciation (depreciation), income and expenses.

Factors That Have Affected Performance

During the period under review, the Fund posted a strong positive return.

The minimal exposure to the Information Technology segment was a material positive contributor as the sector posted a sharp decline. The sector does not generally meet the Fund's multiple criteria of attractive valuations, quality, and dividends.

The overweight in Communication Services added to the returns with holdings Activision Blizzard, BCE, Rogers, and Telus posting strong returns.

The higher exposure to the Consumer Staples holdings including Empire, Kroger, Metro and North West proved beneficial during these volatile times with the market orienting towards these more defensive high quality businesses. In addition, their attractive valuations combined with quarterly results that came ahead of expectations were catalysts to the appreciation in their share prices.

Having a lower exposure to both Energy and Materials detracted from the performance despite the holdings posting very strong returns. Within the Energy sector Arc Resources, Enbridge, Pembina Pipeline, and Suncor Energy benefited from much higher oil and gas prices during the period. Shares in Materials holding Nutrien rallied given the constructive industry demand and supply fundamentals, specifically the recent removal of key potash suppliers in both Belarus and Russia. However, not owning any of the gold and metals mining companies led to some underperformance as they rallied on the market uncertainties outlined. It should be noted that these companies do not meet the Fund's requirements of providing a sustainable dividend yield, quality, and undervaluation.

Strong stock selection in numerous holdings including Centene, CN Rail, Dollar Tree, and Pfizer added to the performance partly on better than expected financial results.

Recent Developments

The expected market environment has been volatile with several developments taking place including geopolitical issues in the Ukraine with Russia, global supply chain issues, persistently higher inflation, central bank tightening, and the ongoing threat of the virus and related variants. Given these concerns, the Fund remains conservatively positioned with quality companies at attractive prices, which the portfolio sub-advisor believes will protect capital and provide sustainable returns over the investment horizon. They continue to stick to their strict discipline and investment process by trimming and selling holdings that approach target prices, while selectively adding to a limited number of high quality holdings with stable business characteristics. They expect to continue taking advantage of market conditions to position the Fund to meet multiple criteria of quality, stability, dividends and discount valuations. While heightened market volatility will likely persist, the Fund offers an attractive potential for gains over their investment time horizon along with a compelling and sustainable dividend yield.

The Portfolio Sub-Advisor opportunistically purchased and sold several positions as a result of market and valuation opportunities.

A position was established in dairy processor Saputo Inc. While the shares have been impacted by temporary factors such as higher input costs and difficulty sourcing labour, a normalization of these factors should lead to higher earnings in the future.

New position Primaris REIT is a spinout comprised of secondary shopping centres from H&R REIT and the Hospitals of Ontario Pension Plan. While earnings in the short term may be impacted by COVID and the related variants, the shares are trading at an attractive valuation and discount to its net asset value.

The position in Energy producer Canadian Natural Resources was eliminated as the shares had appreciated considerably last year.

The holding in Sun Life was sold in favour of establishing a position in Manulife, which offered a much better risk/reward profile. Shares in Manulife are trading at an attractive valuation with a compelling dividend yield. The company also has excess capital which can be allocated towards share buy backs and further dividend increases.

The position in Cominar, a leading Quebec based REIT, was sold after the shares appreciated after receiving a bid from a consortium of investors.

On the foreign side, a new position was initiated in Activision based on its attractive valuation and favourable long-term industry trends. Early in the year the shares appreciated considerably after Microsoft made a bid to purchase the company. The transaction is subject to regulatory and anti-trust reviews which they expect to conclude later this year or early the following year. The positions in AMS, Bridgestone, and Royal Dutch Shell were eliminated due to their valuations reaching their target prices.

(1) All per unit figures presented in 2022 are referenced to net assets determined in accordance with IFRS and are derived from the Fund's semi-annual financial statements for the period ended March 31, 2022.

(2) Net assets and distributions are based on the actual number of units outstanding at the relevant time. The increase/decrease from operations is based on the weighted average number of units outstanding over the financial period.

(4) Distributions (if any) that may have been made that included return of capital in excess of short term earnings were made to minimize disruption and provide stability to investors who have elected to take their distributions in the form of cash, and as disclosed in the Simplified Prospectus. These amounts are reviewed at each calendar year-end and management engages in discussions with the sub-advisor to determine the most applicable strategy on a go forward basis and will take any action(s) as needed for the long term stability of the Fund.

(5) Effective January 18, 2019 Series T has been discontinued and all assets have been merged into Series A.

(1) Management expense ratio is based on total expenses (excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs, as well as withholding taxes) for the stated period and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period.

(2) The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other Fund transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period.

(3) The portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the Fund's sub-advisor manages its investment holdings. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the period. The higher the portfolio turnover rate in a period, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the period, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the period. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of a Fund.

(4) Effective January 18, 2019 Series T has been discontinued and all assets have been merged into Series A.

Management Fees

The Manager is responsible for the management, supervision and administration of the Fund. The Manager receives from the Fund management fees, before HST, calculated daily on the net asset value of the Fund at an annual rate shown below. The Fund does not pay management fees for Series I and O units. Series I and O unitholders pay a negotiated fee directly to NEI Investments.

The management fee covers the cost of investment advisory fees, sales, marketing, and distribution expenses of the Fund. In addition, the Manager may pay a trailer fee to dealers out of this management fee. The trailer fee is a percentage of the average daily value of the units of the Fund held by the dealer's clients. No trailer fees are paid in respect of any Series F and PF units of the Fund.

The following table shows the major services paid for out of management fees as a percentage of the management fee for all applicable series of the Fund:

	Management Fee (%)	Investment Advisory and Other Fees (%)	Trailer Fee (%)
Series A	1.90	56.00	44.00
Series F	0.90	100.00	N/A
Series P	1.65	40.36	59.64
Series PF	0.65	100.00	N/A
