NEI Investments and Bâtirente launch class action lawsuit to recover Sino-Forest losses

Toronto, ON – September 26, 2011 – Northwest & Ethical Investments L.P. (“NEI Investments”), which manages Ethical Funds, Canada’s leading family of socially responsible mutual funds, and Comité syndical national de retraite Bâtirente inc. (“Bâtirente”), a Québec based labour sponsored retirement system, commenced a class action proceeding today against Sino-Forest Corporation (TSX:TRE) on behalf of investors who purchased Sino-Forest shares or notes from August 17, 2004 through June 2, 2011.

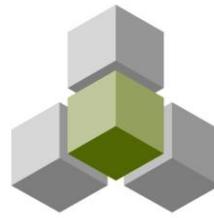

The defendants in the lawsuit also include Sino-Forest’s current and former auditors, 15 financial firms that brought Sino-Forest share and note offerings to market, certain forestry consulting firms, and 20 directors and senior executive officers of the company. The lawsuit alleges that the defendants fundamentally misrepresented the integrity of Sino-Forest’s business operations and financial reporting, and materially overstated its assets and financial results.

Sino-Forest’s securities suffered severe market declines after the release of an analyst’s report on June 2, 2011, which questioned the integrity of the company’s asset valuations, revenues, business practices, and financial reporting. Prior to the declines, Sino-Forest was Canada’s leading forestry company with most of its operations in southern China.

As Sino-Forest shareholders, NEI Investments, through its Ethical Funds family, and Bâtirente, through its funds, had each raised governance concerns in relation to the company prior to the release of the critical analyst report. In January, NEI Investments filed a shareholder proposal encouraging the company to adopt a revised majority voting policy. This proposal was withdrawn when the company committed to adopt the policy. Both NEI Investments and Bâtirente withheld their votes for most of the company directors at the company’s last annual general meeting in May 2011.

“NEI Investments has a fiduciary duty to protect the interests of our investors and in commencing this action we believe we are acting strongly to uphold the integrity of the investment industry,” says Bob Walker, Vice President, Ethical Funds, NEI Investments. “In our longstanding history of engaging with companies to promote responsible corporate governance practices, this is the first time NEI Investments has taken this last-resort approach to protect investors.”

“When our members suffer losses in their retirement plans and those losses result from the type of misconduct alleged in the statement of claim, it is our duty to assist in seeking remedies from those who bear responsibility,” says Daniel Simard, General Co-ordinator, Bâtirente.

The Ontario Securities Commission ordered a suspension of trading in Sino-Forest’s securities on August 26, 2011, finding that: “Sino-Forest, through its subsidiaries appears to have engaged in significant non-arm’s length transactions which may have been contrary to Ontario securities laws and the public interest; Sino-Forest and certain of its officers and directors appear to have misrepresented some of its revenue and/or exaggerated some of its timber holdings by providing information to the public ... which may have been false or misleading; and Sino-Forest and certain of its officers and directors appear to be engaging or participating in acts, practices or a course of conduct related to its securities which it and/or they know or reasonably ought to know perpetuate a fraud....”

“In light of the decision made by the OSC, we felt it was both timely and necessary to commence this action,” says Mr. Walker. Mr. Simard added: “In contrast to the prior class actions filed in this matter, this action includes purchasers of notes as well as shares, and names one of Sino-Forest’s auditors during the period, which was not named in the prior actions, as a defendant.”

Plaintiffs in the lawsuit are represented by Kim Orr Barristers P.C. of Toronto and Milberg LLP of New York.
